

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear misuse of free public airwaves for partisan, political affects. This is a decision, if carried out, that opposes the principles of our democracy. If you allow this one-sided documentary to air, you will have breached your legally entrusted responsibility of keeping the airwaves balanced.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership laws. They show too, why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard.

I should not have to write an organization that was created to safeguard the public airwaves, and remind it who they serve and on what mandate they should act.
